

Wartburg To Go On Air October 16

BECKER BOOSTS EDUCATION CAUSE

President C. H. Becker recently made several speaking engagements in High School and Christian Higher Education.

On the morning of September 2, Pastor Becker addressed the Little Synodals. On September 5 at Mission Rally in Atch, Kansas, he delivered addresses in the forenoon and evening services and showed pictures of Wartburg College and spoke on Christian Higher Education.

On September 13, President Becker delivered the sermon for the Mission Service held at Huron, South Dakota. On September 15 at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, the president spoke at the morning Mission Festival service and in the afternoon at the evening service. He also lectured and again spoke in the interest of Christian Higher Education.

President Becker attended the Minnesota Conference of Pastors at Aiden, Minnesota, on September 26.

FACULTY HEARS FROM BOARD

As yet there have been no new indications as to the regular location of Wartburg College, although the faculty addressed a letter to the Board of Christian Higher Education, asking the Lutheran Church asking them to reach a decision in this matter as soon as possible according to Rev. Dr. Paul L. Lehner.

In response to this letter, President Becker received an answer from Dr. Young, Executive Secretary of the Board of Christian Higher Education.

Our Board has committed substantially to the development of a Greater Wartburg, although we have not yet committed ourself to a definite location.

Our Board appreciates the plan for urgency which was addressed to us, and we understand how urgent it is to increase the size of our property. However, we ask for your patience and faith.

BOMHOFF TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCES IN GERMANY

On Monday, September 25, President C. Becker introduced Chaplain Hardi Bomhoff, recently returned from Germany, to the active service in the European theater of operations. The chaplain home is in Independence, Missouri, where he will be for the present.

Chaplain Bomhoff came to Wartburg to commence his command of the German army. After a few months of service in the German army, he was promoted to Captain and became a part of his travels in Germany, accompanied by two other chaplains and their respective assistants. After leaving Mainz, Germany, the group headed for Berlin, where they saw many of the landmarks of that historic city. The condition of the refugees of the Nazi Government was described as pitifully poor.

In the ruins of the rich and majestic temples of Germany, the home in which Dr. Martin Luther died ripe and unripe was destroyed to the ground. Chaplain Bomhoff has some very interesting and quaint customs. The people of this Heian town was very noticeable but most of it

WARTBURG "OUTFLY" AROUSES THE TOWNPEOPLE.

It was neither dawn nor gray. It was cold when at 6 a.m. the students of Wartburg awoke. Their beloved leader student presbytery, Fran Langhoff, awoke the fresh boys with a hearty "Good morning!" It was that one of the oldest Wartburg traditions was again ushered in to the open joy of the students, and the secret of the success of the school who remembered many students of the past years.

At eight o'clock everyone was up. Breakfast was over and the square dance was in progress. After putting quite a few rounds out of the floor, the time came for the students to obtain Wright's permission to have outfit. As Miss Wright also thought it was a lovely day outfit was officially granted.

The bike out to the grounds was uneventful except for a "ranging" of the grounds by the sophomore boys the "Great Knights."

The beautiful fall day was deliciously wasted away with boat-rides, football, soft ball, and just "laying-in."

After supper a huge bonfire (two for the same night) was built and a program was presented. It was well agreed (1) that the fresh boys were the ones that were to be purchased; (2) that Anna Rath and Jules make a cute couple; (3) that the "Great Knights" be a "blondie" voice; and (4) that Steenblock is all wrong about Tarzan.

The "Great Loyalty Song" always thrills a person, but that evening it thrilled us even more so.

"Tarzan and the Amazon" was the movie that evening, and what "Ausfue" would be complete without crashing the theater. So after Tarzan had rescued "Boy" recreated the kingdom to the Amazon and pulled the trees away to start their life on Jane's way. Wartburgers were out of the theatre and back to their dorms—a happy group of outfitters!

Hot Coals From --The Ash Can--

Backing WAS a lot of fun on outfit, but on the consequences—

What did Paul G see from the pot that made him scream, Walk?

He heard in Wente S is dazed up for 5 days in a row. Come on, come girls!

At breakfast the other morning

one of the Freshman girls who has a crush on Bill Roeder was asked "Want another roll?"

"No," she replied, "I'll have my roll later."

Wednesday—Marg. and Lloyd go to family night at St. Paul's. Nine o'clock.

Does the "blonde bomber" have to buzz the kitchen staff every evening in hopes that someone finally will notice her down?

And what about the three pampered North Hailers who ran the gauntlet this morning?

We hear some of the fellows now it is especially nice walking out north of town.

The trumpet, rock and rye, and all moved below ground to the catwalks and up to the old basement office in Old Main.
